Metal Braces: A Simple Guide - The Dental Guide

Metal Braces: Standard metal braces are brackets and bands that your orthodontist will affix to your teeth using dental cement. They are strung together with wire and are used to move your teeth into alignment. Ceramic Braces: Similar to metal braces in design and function, ceramic braces can be tinted to match the color of your tooth enamel. This makes them less noticeable, and many people find ceramic braces to be more comfortable than the metal variety.
